At the Academy to-morrow and Saturday and Saturday matinee the attraction will be Frederic Thompson's production of Porter Emerson Browne's domestic drama. "The Spendthrift, with a cast of notable players. Those of "Polly of the Circus." Brewster's Millions, "Via Wireless" and Mr. Browne's other great success, "A Fool There Was," will have good "eason for anticipating another dramatic treat. The play ran nearly all winter in New York, and was voted one of the real metropol's successes.

"The Spendthrift," in its conception and execution, is entirely different from "A Fool There Was," which play first brought Porter Emerson Browne into prominence as a playwright. It deals with the frivolous extravagance of a luxury-loving wife and the financial ruin achieved by the husband in his efforts to gratify her extravagant whims. The play is in four acts, the first three showing the lavishly furnished and tastefully decorated in teriors of a well-to-do New York broker's home; the last an attle from, in a lower East Side tenement house. The company was especially engaged by Mr. Thompson for the present tour, with a view to the particular fitness of each member to his or her respective parts. They include Doris Mitchell, who portrays the spendthrift wife, Lionel Adams, Lizzie McCall. Albert Sackett, Gwendolyn Piers, Forrest E. Orr, Alice Kelly and William Sullivan.
